School of Geography and Development
Speaker Series Fall 2013

Friday Colloquia meet from 3:30 to 4:45 in Harvill Room 404. The series brings prominent scholars and professionals from across a range of perspectives, including human geography, spatial analytic methods, regional science, physical geography, and human-environment research.

Coffee, tea, and snacks are served from 3PM.

Fri., Aug. 30  Welcome Back

Fri., Sept. 6  Talbot Brooks, Center for Interdisciplinary Geospatial Information Technologies, Delta State University  (held in Aerospace & Mech. Engr. Bldg. Rm. S202), Saving the World One Grid Square at a Time

Fri., Sept. 13 Vincent del Casino, School of Geography & Development, and College of Social & Behavioral Sciences, UA  Urban Geopolitics and the Spectacle of Tourism

Fri., Sept. 20 David Harvey, PhD Program in Anthropology, City University of New York (SAGA Speaker)  (held in Harvill Building Rm. 150), On Contradictions

Fri., Sept. 27  No Colloquium - APCG

Fri., Oct. 4  Brian Cook, Dept. Resource Management & Geography, University of Melbourne  Evidence-Based Water Management: Looking Past the Expert-Lay Divide to the Role of Framing

Fri., Oct. 11 Linda Samuels, Drachman Institute, CAPLA/SBS/IE, UA  Infrastructural Optimism

Fri., Oct. 18 Chris Impey, Department of Astronomy, UA (My Arizona Lecture)  (venue)  From My Arizona Sky to the Edge of the Universe

Fri., Oct. 25 Ian Record, Native Nations Institute, UA  The Western Apaches, Aravaipa, and the Struggle for Place: Economic Development, Ecosystem Rehabilitation, and Cultural Reconnection in the 21st Century

Fri., Nov. 1 Martha Few, Department of History, UA  Centering Animals in Latin American History

Fri., Nov. 8 Emily Yeh, Department of Geography, University of Colorado  The Rise (and Fall) of the Green Tibetan: Environmental Subjects and Contested collaborations

Fri., Nov. 15  No Colloquium - Regional Science meetings

Fri., Nov. 22 Iris Patten, School of Geography & Development, UA  Tribal Planning and GeoDesign

Fri., Nov. 29  No Colloquium - Thanksgiving

Fri., Dec. 6 Ben Colombi, American Indian Studies Program, UA  Kamchatka: Indigenous Google-Mapping of Ethnographic Landscapes