Associate Vice President for Student Affairs & Enrollment Management

Connie Woodhouse
Interim Director, School of Geography and Development

Keynote Address:
“Promises of Aching Beauty”

Joseph Wilder
Director, Southwest Center, University of Arizona

The title of the talk comes from Chuck Bowden’s Blue Desert: “Here the land always makes promises of aching beauty and the people always fail the land.”

The presentation — a Graham Greene-like “entertainment” rather than a carefully argued thesis — will illustrate humble ordinary ways in which we fail the land and redeem the land in necessary city-building, in the course of which we will discuss production housing, snout houses, rural-urban interfaces, courtyards and plazas, density, “outdoor rooms” and other jolly subjects as found throughout our region.

Joseph Wilder is the director of the Southwest Center at the University of Arizona – a department dedicated to the integrated regional study of the American Southwest and Mexican northwest — and editor of Journal of the Southwest. He has developed and edited two book series, one at the UA Press and one at the University of New Mexico Press, in which over 50 books have been published in the last twenty years. He holds a Ph.D. in political theory from Notre Dame.
Field Trips: All Aboard!

Remember to:

- Arrive at the boarding station 15 minutes before your trip is scheduled to leave. Please allow an additional 15 minutes for walking from the Marriott Hotel to our “Stage Stop.”
- Wear sunscreen.
- Bring your water bottle – you need to stay hydrated.
- Wear a hat and sunglasses if you brought them.

Getting to the Stage Stop:

Exit the Marriott onto 2nd Street. Go to the right (east) on 2nd Street and walk one block to Park Avenue. Turn right (south) and walk one block to University Boulevard. Turn left (east) at the traffic light onto University, entering the campus through the Main Gate. Continue for about one block past the Centennial Hall auditorium on the right heading towards the flagpole and “Old Main.” Your transportation and field trip leaders will meet you on the right (south) side of the public traffic turn-around at the flagpole.

Trip Departure and Return Times:

- 7:30–5:00  Tohono O’odham Nation: Border Security and Traditional Agriculture
- 8:00–5:00  Water Tales: Infrastructure, Management, and Innovation
- 9:00–11:30  Tucson’s El Presidio Historic District: Walking Tour
- 9:00–4:00  Sky Islands: Biogeography, Fire Ecology and Forest Management, Mt. Lemmon
- 9:00–5:00  Military and Security Landscapes of Baja Arizona
- 9:30–4:00  Biosphere 2 ~ Where Science Lives!
- 9:30–2:00  Researching the Past: Tree Rings to Mirrors
- 10:00–1:00  University of Arizona Green Walking Tour
- 10:00–3:00  Chicano Murals as Sites of Struggle, Celebration and Resilience in Tucson
- 2:00–5:00  APCG Architectural Tour of Tucson: From the Foothills to the Mission

Please consult the detailed descriptions on the field trip page of the conference website for additional information about arrangements for your specific trip.

Thanks to the AAG’s Indigenous Peoples’ Specialty Group for their participation and sponsorship of activities at this year’s APCG conference!

The all-day Thursday field trip, Tohono O’odham Nation: Border Security and Traditional Agriculture, and the special session E1 Indigenous Research and Sustainability Practices on Saturday morning were organized and sponsored by the IPSG.

Please note, also, the numerous other presentations throughout the meeting on geographic topics about and relevant to indigenous peoples or presented by Native American scholars. Among these are the Friday afternoon papers by Madsen and Monk in session C2 and by Nebitsi in session D2.
